MANY CHANGES IN HAMPTON PILPITS

Five of That City's Churches Now Without Regular Pastor.

SUIT TO BREAK WILL

Action Brought to Change Disposition of Property of Late John W. Boyenton.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
 Hampton, Va., November 11.—The "minister" will be a very important factor in Hampton in the near future, as five of the churches here are without an active minister, or are just about to become pastorless. The pulpit of historic St. John's Episcopal Church, as well as that of the Hampton Presbyterian Church, is now without an active pastor, while the Rev. John Anderson Jayne only last week tendered his resignation, pastor to the Church of Christ. Tomorrow the Rev. George W. Wray, of the First Methodist, and the Rev. Charles E. Green, of Central Methodist, will leave for Salisbury to attend the annual sessions of the Virginia Methodist Conference. Neither of the ministers will be returned here, so that the pulpits hereafter will be supplied with new men. The Presbyterians will not call a minister until January; the Church of Christ will wait until February, while St. John's is now looking around for a rector, and may invite some minister here at any day.

Gaylord-Wood.
 Robert L. J. Gaylord, who travels for a Baltimore firm, and Miss Georgia Wood, the daughter of Captain and Mrs. George R. Wood, of this city, were married in Richmond last night. Mr. Gaylord came here yesterday and secured a license. Miss Wood has been attending the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at Newport, and was a delegate from Hampton Chapter. The wedding ceremony was a delightful surprise to her friends here.

Thomas H. Davis, Jr.
 Avenue, has announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Lela May Davis, to Philip M. Small, of Philadelphia. The wedding will be celebrated here on November 20.

Suit to Break Will.
 Suit to break the will of the late John W. Boyenton has been instituted in the Circuit Court here by John Weymouth, C. Locke Collier and W. D. Richards, trustees in bankruptcy, of Boyenton & Company, former bankers of Hampton, Fauquier and Loudoun counties. The elder Boyenton was the father of John H. Boyenton and John C. Boyenton, who controlled the firm of Boyenton & Company, and it is claimed that their share of the father's property should be paid off the creditors of the three insolvent banks. The elder Boyenton left the property for the two sons in trust.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Collier have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Fannie Bell Collier, to Charles H. Collier, of Norfolk, R. K. Curtis, and deputy to Sheriff of the County of York. The wedding will take place in the Memorial Baptist Church Thursday afternoon, November 16, at 5:30 o'clock. Miss Collier will be escorted by her father, Mr. Howard S. Collier, of Norfolk, and Howard E. Collier, of this county, will be the matrons of honor. Howard Wray Curtis will attend his brother as best man. Rev. W. Mosby will officiate at the marriage. Miss Collier is a niece of Henry Lane Schmeiz, the banker of Hampton and Newport News.

Injured in Game.
 In a warmly contested football game between the eleven of the Forty-first and Thirty-first Companies of Coast Artillery at Fort Monroe this afternoon, Sergeant "Rusty" Irving, right halfback on the Thirty-fifth team, had his right leg broken near the hip. Both bones were snapped, and the injury is a serious one. Several days ago Sergeant Schmitzberger of the Hundred and Sixty-ninth Company, received a fracture of his left leg at the knee while playing football on the fort gridiron.

Mr. L. Lake, son of John B. Lake, who married the daughter of the late George A. Schmeiz, is desperately ill with cerebral meningitis and other complications in St. Francis's Hospital, Newport News.

James S. Dilling, Jr., the ten-year-old son of Captain and Mrs. Frank W. Dilling, of Cedar Hall, is extremely ill with typhoid fever, and his recovery is said to be doubtful. He is the only child of the Darlings, and is reported to be the wealthiest boy in Tidewater Virginia.

Mrs. R. P. Shelton, in Washington
 Street, was called to Matthews county this week on account of the death of her sister, Mrs. Mollie Forrest.

Has Had Fall.
 The Rev. J. H. Williams, pastor of the Methodist Church in Portsmouth, York county, fell from a store porch Thursday afternoon and sustained very painful injuries. He has a badly sprained back, two broken ribs and a number of bruises on his body.

The Right Reverend Dr. Randolph, bishop of the Episcopal Southern Diocese of Virginia, will make an official visit to St. John's Episcopal Church here on November 26, when he will confirm a class of twenty communicants.

The Rev. George Floyd Rogers, of Lynchburg, is spending his vacation in Hampton with friends.

PROVES SUCCESS OF COMMISSION

Already It Has Done Wonderful Things for Wilmington.

RECALL HAS BEEN TESTED

An Agitator at First, But Is Found to Give Good Results.

Wilmington, N. C., November 12.—Wilmington now seems to have successfully passed through the turbulent stages of the recall in its commission form of government, and the recall, while shown to be something of an agitator, nevertheless has accomplished good, insofar as it aroused civic pride and really was the means of showing the five Councilmen, who compose Wilmington's first commission, that people—a big majority of the people—approved their action and at the same time the recall stands as a menace in case any Councilman should do what is not right. There was some trouble at first in drawing a distinction between the recall and the referendum, people getting their objects badly mixed, but that now seems to be in the past, and the city is down to bedrock and doing better now than it has in a score of years. It was realized that the recall would prove a result of turmoil on the start, but as the result now, everything is in its right place, and every one now is glad the recall is in the new form, so as to protect against any future corruption. It was argued at one time that it would be easy to get up a recall, but this, on the contrary, was found most difficult, although only 65 per cent. of the registered voters is required to make a recall effective. Having apparently weathered the storm of the first recall movement, which necessarily had chance to cement many dissenting parties, by reason of a radical change necessary on the start of a reform administration, it is felt that future recalls will be easily downed, unless there is some substantial complaint. The commission government, especially by comparison, has already done wonders for Wilmington. It has been holding forth less than eight months, and has inaugurated $100,000 of permanent improvements, and is negotiating for municipal ownership of sewerage, has banished all hogs and cows from the city, enacted rigid laws governing horse stables, passed many other measures promoting the healthfulness of the city, and has accomplished many more things. The one thing it has failed to do, however, is in all preceding Boards of Aldermen, to make a dent in the "blind tiger" business in Wilmington.

Two big fraternal order events will transpire in Wilmington this week. The convention of the Odd-Fellows of the Sixth District will be held here Wednesday, the meetings taking place in the handsome Odd-Fellows Temple. Mayor Joseph D. Smith will extend the city's welcome and Major M. C. Guthrie, of Southport, will respond. There will be a number of talks, and the convention will be brought to a close at night with a brilliant social session.

The Wilmington Knights of Pythias are anticipating a big time with the observance of "Orphans' Home Day" Thursday, and at night exercises will take place, and upon which occasion the Rev. Frank J. Mallett, of Salisbury.

The first damage suit growing out of the Seaboard Air Line's wreck near Lumberton, N. C., last summer, in which many were injured and a young woman from Georgia, en route to Wrightsville Beach, was killed, has been settled. The negro porter of the train, David F. Johnson, of this city, was among those injured, and he later sued the road, it being understood that he would seek something like $10,000 damages. However, his suit was compromised with the road yesterday, and so recorded, though compensation is not specified.

The finishing touches are being placed on the Wilmington, Brunswick and Southport Railroad, and the road expects to inaugurate its service Thursday, November 23, which will make a red letter day in the history of Southport, the little town at the mouth of the Cape Fear River, and almost opposite Fort Caswell. This road is the first to reach Southport, and hence its start will be made a gala event. Big preparations for a celebration have been made, and many prominent men will gather there to speak, including Senator Simmons, Senator Overman and Governor Kitchin. The new road expects to maintain daily passenger and freight service. A feature of the celebration will be a visit from a number of warships, the harbor at Southport being an immense one and capable of taking anything in the ship line.

The first or more alleged "blind tigers," recently indicted by the grand jury, still threaten to take their cases, or a test case, to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary, claiming that when Congress legislated to grant them a lawful liquor license that such license cannot be used as evidence against them in criminal cases. The courts have held it is prima facie evidence, and mainly upon these were the indictments secured. The city will bitterly contest this point, and in addition is going to try and get the cases removed from this county, alleging that the city trial cannot be held here. After several mistrials, however, a well-known white man, was tried again Friday, and the jury acquitted him.

CUTS SHOE CAUGHT IN TRACK
Girl Slashes Her Foot Free Just in Time to Save Her Life.

Burlington, N. Y., November 12.—Slashing her shoe, which had been caught in a frog as she was crossing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, Miss Amanda Young saved herself from death under the wheels of the New York-Atlantic City afternoon express. Helpless in the path of the train, Miss Young did not lose her self-possession, and cried to workmen in an adjacent factory for aid.

Several threat penitents from the windows and one fell from her perch. Miss Young grabbed it, and while her companions faint or averted their heads away, expecting her to be ground to pieces, she deftly slit the leather, withdrew her stockinged foot, and in the nick of time, leaped from the path of the express.

KANSAS TOWNS READY TO MOVE

Four County Seats Will Be Put on Rollers and Hauled Away.

TO MEET NEAR RAILROAD

Buildings Will Be Towed Many Miles Across the Prairie.

Topeka, Kan., November 12.—"The first Monday in May, June, July, August next year will be moving days in Southwest Kansas. On these days four county seats towns will be jacked up on rollers and hauled to new locations on a new Santa Fe line now being built between Dodge City and Colmar, N. M."

Former Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Fitzgerald, who has secured the right of way for this new line through southwestern Kansas, which is to be as straight as a ruler for more than 200 miles, was telling the Santa Fe officials here that the plans now under way for moving four county seats to new sites on the railroad. The line is to be completed from Dodge City to the Colorado-Kansas line at the extreme southwestern corner of this State by October 1 next, and before that time the four towns, with their courthouses, jails, churches, banks, newspaper offices, business houses and residences are to be moved to new locations.

Santa Fe, the county seat of Haskell county, will move six miles to the south on the first Monday in May. One month later New Ulm, a county seat of Grant county, will move two and a half miles to the new railroad. Then in July Hugoton, the county seat of Stevens county, will use the same big moving wagons and traction engines in moving a new site ten miles distant. In August, Richfield, county seat
